To whom it may concern,

Dedicated, driven, and diligent. These are just a few of the traits and abilities I can bring to your company. I will become an asset for not only you as the employer, but also to those around me and am constantly striving to become more and more proficient in my career. Please look over my resume and see that I have the capability to quickly learn and am willing to do any and every task that may be given to me.

I don't shy away from challenges and will learn from each and every experience. Whether that job or experience is labeled good or bad I will always be able to take something away from each and every trial no matter how small. I can and will deliver results and show you that I am capable of learning as well as doing. Thank you for your time, please feel free to ask me any questions you may have regarding my resume and experiences. I look forward to hearing from you.

Respectfully, Phillip Lam Thach
